

Technical Conference Dinner, 13th July 2006, "The Signet", Edinburgh
Systems Engineering for Autonomous Systems (SEAS) &
Electro-Magnetic Remote Sensing (EMRS)
Defence Technology Centres (DTCs)

On Thursday 13th July the SEAS & EMRS DTCs will hold a dinner to mark their first joint technical conference. Dress code will be "business-wear".

The dinner will be held at "The Signet", designed by Robert Reid, with interiors by William Stark, "The Signet" was completed in 1822 for the visit to Edinburgh of King George IV. "The Signet" is owned by The Society of Writers to Her Majesty's Signet - a society of advocates, barristers and solicitors.

Situated in the heart of the historic old town of Edinburgh "The Signet", adjacent to St. Giles Cathedral, can be accessed from Parliament Square, just off the Royal Mile. The most conveniently located hotels are The Radisson SAS, The Carlton Hotel, Hotel Ibis and the Jurys Inn Edinburgh hotel - for location map see overleaf.

Pre-dinner drinks will be served in the Lower Library between 7:15 pm and 8:00pm. Dinner will then be held in the magnificent Upper Library.

Giancarlo Grasso (Chief Technical Officer, Finmeccanica and Chief Executive Officer, Selex S&AS SpA) will speak on behalf of Industry during pre-dinner drinks. Dr Janet Brown (Managing Director - Key Industries, Scottish Enterprise) will speak on behalf of our event sponsor. Professor Sir Roy Anderson (Chief Scientific Adviser, MoD) will speak on behalf of the customer during dinner. Our Master of Ceremonies, Patrick Hayes, will be in charge of events.

The dinner is offered as a costed option (£50.00 + VAT) and can be booked through delegate packages types "A", "B" and "E" – see web site for details. Early booking is advised as capacity is limited to 220 diners.

Our partners for this event are The Heritage Portfolio (www.heritageportfolio.co.uk). This multi-award winning event management company specialise in transforming historic venues.

The musical entertainment for the evening, Stringfever (www.stringfever.co.uk) is provided through the sponsorship of the SEAS DTC.

Diners with special dietary requirements are asked to inform us of their requirements at the time of booking -
